CANADA

As you can see by the articles below on the cancellation of the World Premiere of the documentary “Killing Europe” in Ottawa last weekend, the storm troopers are now at the Gates of Canada, dictating what we cannot see or hear. The real reason is that the video in question exposes the truth and leftists would rather suffocate the truth than deal with it. I fear that this is only the tip of the iceberg - the more we accept such outrageous behavior, the greater will be the consequences down the road.

Canada: Ottawa library cancels planned screening of documentary on Muslim migrants in Europe

I haven't seen Killing Europe, or even heard of it before this controversy began. But this is cause for concern: “But even a '30-second Google search' by the library would have revealed it to be hate speech, says human rights lawyer Richard Warman, who was one of the people to complain to the library about the screening." All that anyone can tell from a 30-second Google search is that it is accused of being "hate speech," not that it is actually "hate speech." What constitutes "hate speech" is a subjective judgment, based on the core beliefs and preconceptions of the person making the judgment; the increasingly common assumption that it is an objectively quantifiable category of speech is extremely disquieting, as it paves the way for censorship and authoritarianism.

Killing Free Speech in Canada

Last month we reported on a new film made by a Danish-American videographer named Michael Hansen. After fifteen years away from home, Mr. Hansen returned to Europe and recorded a video chronicle of his experiences that highlighted the increasing violence and chaos caused by Islamization. From his video material he compiled a documentary called Killing Europe. The documentary was to have been screened last week at the public library in Ottawa. The library staff and the police had watched the film and judged that it passed the library's policies on sensitivity, inclusion, tolerance, etc blah yak. Mr. Hansen was heading for the venue to take part in the premiere when the library abruptly cancelled the screening.

Documentary: "Killing Europe"

This documentary sheds light on the growth of several very problematic movements within Europe including homophobia, anti-Semitism and rape-culture. However painful and difficult these issues are, it is essential that they are exposed for what they are, and that the victims have the opportunity to tell their stories.

In the absence of government and institutional leadership and equitable media, Canadians need to be staunch defenders of the human rights of the most vulnerable members of our society, and we condemn, in the strongest terms possible, the re-victimization of women who bravely spoke out of their experience of rape and the institutionalized misogyny that they had been subjected to being further compounded by being denied the means to share their experience, e.g. by the City of Ottawa and the Ottawa Public Library.

This is exactly what the documentary film 'Killing Europe' does: it brings forward the personal, first-person accounts of stories of victims of rape, anti-Semitism, and homophobia and the violence they had been subjected to. Yes, these stories are painful and troubling, but they are true, first-person accounts of victims of institutionalized violence – and they deserve a fair hearing.

Killing Free Speech by Censoring 'Killing Europe' Documentary with Dr. Bill Warner

Michael Hanson is a former Dane who returned to Europe after a 10 year absence and made a movie of what he saw of the effects of Islam on the streets of Europe. The documentary was screened by the Ottawa library staff and scheduled for view on Saturday, Nov. 25. But a threatened street protest by ANTIFA and Ottawans Against Fascism caused cancellation of the viewing. Once again, Sharia law is being used against free speech.

Canada: “Leading expert” insists that jihad “terrorist travellers” can be rehabilitated

According to University of Waterloo Sociology professor Lorne Dawson, no credible expert in the world thinks you can arrest your way out of jihadist radicalization — it’s a social movement. You can’t possibly arrest all the people who are engaged with this ideology. Dawson makes a silly, general, sweeping claim in an attempt to divert attention away from returning Islamic State fighters to Canada, who should face consequences for their war crimes, have their citizenship revoked and be kept safely away from the public. Murderers who are locked up in maximum security jails are child’s play compared to jihadists who have engaged in the cruelest, unimaginable atrocities against innocent people in their war of conquest.

COMMENTARY: On returning ISIS fighters, Trudeau has a script. But he doesn't have a clue

Canada is allowing people who chose to leave our country to join ISIS in the Middle East to now return to Canada to live a life outside prison.

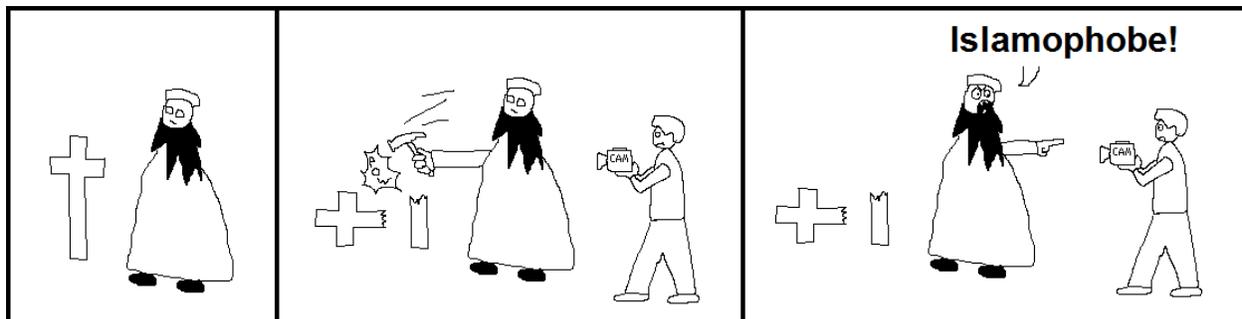

Trudeau wants to reintegrate them into Canadian society. Common sense forces us to ask why. Who the hell wants this kind of crud to be among us?

DISGRACEFUL: Trudeau Accuses Conservatives Of "Islamophobia" For Opposing His ISIS "Reintegration" Plan

Canada is under the "leadership" of somebody who thinks being worried about ISIS fighters within our borders "fearmongering" and "Islamopobia." That's the only conclusion we can draw after watching Trudeau's incredibly disturbing and disgraceful answer to Andrew Scheer's concerns about the danger of ISIS fighters being "reintegrated."

Judge blocks bill 62, so women can once again wear niqabs on the bus

A Quebec Superior Court Judge, Justice Babak Barin, has temporarily blocked Bill 62, the provincial law regarding face-coverings. That means anyone can cover their face while obtaining public services in Quebec, be that seeing a doctor or taking the bus. The ruling comes two weeks after Marie-Michele Lacoste, the National Council of Canadian Muslims, and the Canadian Civil Liberties Association argued for a temporary suspension of the law.

Canada to redact more than 5,000 records from questionnaire asking Muslim asylum seekers about religion

The RCMP announced Monday it will expunge any data on religious and cultural practices collected from Muslim refugee claimants who had crossed the U.S. border at a popular informal crossing in Quebec. In total, the RCMP said it collected 5,438 files containing a completed questionnaire or references to one. Those records will be “permanently redacted” from electronic databases, and sealed recordings will be retained “for two years after its last use for an administrative purpose” and then destroyed, the RCMP wrote in a statement to the Star.

Canada: Jews most targeted for hate crimes, hate crimes against Muslims decrease

Jews were the most targeted minority group for hate crimes in Canada in 2016, according to data released by Statistics Canada, the country’s main numbers-keeper. According to “Police-Reported Hate Crime, 2016,” released Tuesday, Jews were victimized 221 times, up from 178 the previous year, a rise of more than 20 percent. Blacks were next at 214 incidents and those victimized due to sexual orientation, 176. Jews also were the most targeted religious group, followed by Catholics and Muslims, despite perceptions of a rise in Islamophobia. Hate crimes against Muslims and Catholics declined in 2016 compared to the previous year.

Canada: Hamilton, Ontario police holding recruiting event at mosque

The Hamilton Police Service is placing “diversity” above public safety. Is it more important to have Muslim police officers, or to have competent police officers? Police hiring should be based on merit alone, not on pandering to “minority communities.” And what kind of vetting will be undertaken in order to make sure that no Hamilton Police Service recruits from this mosque have jihadist sympathies? Why, none at all, of course. That would be “Islamophobic.”

Journalist Tells Personal Story of FGM: a ‘Massacre’

Egyptian journalist Rabab Azzam tells her personal account of being a victim of FGM (female genital mutilation) at age 13. FREEDOM OF SPEECH

Facebook launches new guide for Muslims, telling them how to report "hate speech"

Faith Associates chief executive Shaukat Warraich said the guide would be an important tool for Muslims on the site. "We have seen the dramatic rise of Islamophobic rhetoric and terrorist-inspired content that manifests online and appreciate Facebook's effort in supporting grass roots organisations to enhance the knowledge and develop the skills of Muslim users to directly deal with it when they see it," he said. "I am confident that this guide will be well received in the Muslim community and will empower Muslim users of Facebook with the confidence and resilience to become effective in identifying and tackling the risks that exist online.

Freedom Based Social Network Does Not Censor

These new rules mean that Twitter will "monitor" and "document" users on/offline activities. They have already begun de-verifying top conservatives and members of the alt-right, and recently removed longtime Trump advisor Roger Stone from the platform... forever. Long before their most recent blitzkrieg against popular conservatives and libertarians, they have spent the past few months inching towards a full on Orwellian 1984 nightmare. Filtering anything and everything, from what appeared in your feed, hiding "disturbing" content, and filtering out replies to your account.

MOTION M-103

Iqra Khalid's Islamic Crusade to suppress freedom of speech under ruse of Islamophobia

I find your motion before the Canadian Parliament listed below to be offensive and if transmuted into law or metastasized into a crown inquiry by any manner of legislative or political chicanery; an act of political violence against one of the most sacrosanct cornerstones and inalienable rights of free speech, long recognized via Anglo-Saxon Common Law and our Judeo-Christian heritage. Many a monarch or totalitarian dictator have in the distant past or immediate present given their seal to laws that oppressed those who were in vocal opposition to the draconian rules said rulers unilaterally imposed on their subjects.

IMMIGRATION-MIGRATION

The talk Canada needs: Are we importing inequality?

These writers aren't anti-immigration. They're just pro-evidence. They don't even delve into the challenges of integration – a subject that liberals tend to think will go away if they repeat the word "diversity" enough. The trouble is, diversity tends to be divisive. That's just human nature. If given their preference, people prefer to live in settled communities with other people who are a lot like them. "A too-rapid inflow of immigrants weakens bonds of solidarity, and, in the long run, erodes the affective ties required to sustain the welfare state."

AROUND THE WORLD

GERMANY

For Eastern Europe, Germany Is the Trouble

There is also a huge gulf in attitudes toward migration. Western Europeans cite the easterners' s refusal to take any migrants as a sign of lack of solidarity, populist prejudice and perhaps racism. The easterners respond that nobody asked their views on opening the borders and point out the failure of western societies to integrate the migrants as a reason to not rush into this experiment. They point out that Muslims that have lived for decades in Europe, yet nonetheless voted for the Islamist dictator Erdogan in much greater numbers than their fellow Turks at home. There are also spiking numbers of migrant crimes and sexual assaults.

There is another powerful reason for Eastern Europe's reluctance to accept Muslim refugees that is seldom discussed, though it is important and it has to do with the region's historical experience with Muslims. Very few in Western Europe are aware of it, but every child in Poland knows that Jan Sobieski saved Europe and Christendom from the Ottomans at Vienna in 1683.

EGYPT

The Apocalyptic Barbarism of Isis

Even by the miserable standards of ISIS and its affiliates/hangers-on, last week's attack on the al-Rawdah mosque in the northern Sinai region of Egypt was spectacularly callous. First, the 30-or-so masked attackers set off a bomb within the mosque, and then, as worshippers fled through the only exits the attackers hadn't blocked off, they machine-gunned them down. As it stands, over 300 were killed, and a further 100 injured.

The people who live in Sinai, whether Sufis, Sunnis or Christians, are of no matter. They're just background, a mere setting for Sinai Province's terrorist spectacles. This is why it's significant that Sinai Province explicitly tries to recruit. It used to be a cliché of official state discourse that there shall be no negotiations or compromise with those labelled terrorists. Yet in the case of ISIS, and its brutally tedious spin-offs, there really can't be any compromises or negotiations or, more importantly, understanding. We have to muster a radical, moral intolerance of our own. ISIS is to be destroyed.

MYANMAR

Mass Hindu Graves Linked to Rohingya Islamist Rebels

As the international community continues to condemn the "textbook example of ethnic cleansing" implemented by the Myanmar army in retaliation for an uprising initiated by Rohingya insurgents, not enough attention is being paid to the atrocities implemented by the Rohingya rebels and their ties to radical Islamist groups which threaten world peace and security. According to Indian intelligence reports, the Rohingya rebels are linked to Al Qaeda, ISIS and Lashkar e-Toiba, the very same Pakistani terror group that was responsible for a series of terror attacks in Mumbai, India in 2008 that resulted in the massacre of 166 people. The international community should stop treating these insurgents with kid gloves and to start exposing them for their crimes against the Hindu community as well as others in Myanmar.

The apparent shift in Saudi Arabia's position towards the Palestinians should not come as a surprise. Saudi Arabia and most of the Arab countries are obviously fed up with the recurring attempts by the Palestinians to blackmail them and extort money from them.

Outrage over Trump's video-sharing, silence on the content

Muslim gang violence against non-Muslims in Europe has reached very large proportions. I myself have been the victim four times in the last twenty years. So Trump sharing videos about Islamic hatred is "spreading hatred against Muslims"? That must mean that Islamic killings and hatred is fine. However, "Islamophobia" most certainly is not.

The Wages of Inversion by David Solway

A blood-saturated religion is rinsed for public consumption as the "religion of peace." An insurgent army of fascist brownshirts calls itself Antifa. "Inclusion" has come to mean the exclusion of those who do not conform to a prescribed ideology. "Diversity" is an antonymic synonym for monolithic groupthink. "Affirmative action" affirms racism in the guise of anti-racism. Sexual jokes, lewd comments and even innocent displays of affection or interest on the part of men are subsumed under the category of "sexual assault" and are said to constitute infallible signs of male depravity; similarly the term "rape culture," prominent on campus, refers to a non-existent entity and has come to describe normal sexual and romantic behavior.

The mantra of "Social Justice" is the conceptual umbrella under which all such aberrations take shelter. It is nothing but a stand-in for flagrant injustice, exacting tribute from decent hardworking people and struggling entrepreneurs to benefit a largely parasitical class of those who claim to be oppressed or who affect to be offended.

The Essential Arabic Muslims Don't Want You To Know

Shariah is from Allah and is superior to all man made laws and religions like, Capitalism, Communism, Socialism, Humanism Christianity, Judaism, Taoism, Hinduism, Agnosticism, Paganism, Democracies, Republics, US Constitution, US Bill of Rights, Constitutional Monarchies, Buddhism, and Unitarian-Universalism to name only a few. Shariah dictates to the followers of Islam how to pray, run an Islamic government, brush your teeth, what to wear, how many wives you can marry, exact legal penalties from death sentences, chopping off of body parts, blood money for murder, death sentence for gays, what you can say and not say, what you can and can't listen to, and how to behave in the land of Dar al Harb / Non-Islamic countries.

Silence is collusion by Diane Bederman

I fear for their future. Not from the right: the group that Prime Minister Trudeau called out. The small minority, angry, frustrated group of racists don't get to define who we are as a country, don't get to tell others who we are and don't get to change the nature of the open, accepting values that make us who we are. One thing I know is the position of the KKK and the Nazis. They carry themselves proudly, with signs that speak to their beliefs and even sing "Jews will not replace us." I have no fear of these people. I recognize them right away. But the left is different. The left is spreading hate under a veil of respectability that has been provided by pundits, professors and politicians. The many organizations on the left talk about free speech but prevent it. And the media says nothing.
