

“We are at war; it will be necessary to be pitiless.”

~ Pascal Bruckner ~

First Facebook and YouTube and now Twitter: all the social-media giants have banned Alex Jones and Infowars. Many so-called liberals are cheering these acts of corporate censorship, this unilateral enforcement of correct-speak by some of the most powerful corporations on Earth. This is folly of epic proportions. These people are giving a green-light to Big Tech to install itself as the moral arbiter of public discussion. Because let's face it: the internet, particularly social media, is where public discussion takes place today. It is the new public square. Asking unaccountable capitalists to control what may be said in this public square is wrong and dangerous. We're entering an era of outsourced censorship, where the terrible things once done by the state – the silencing of dissenters, the punishment of the eccentric – is now done by Silicon Valley suits. Who knows which ideas will next be branded 'hate speech' – that is, 'verboden' – by these corporate censors. It will happen. Soon. They have been given the power by foolish liberals to act as judge, jury and executioner on online speech, and they will use that power.

Opinion: Leaked Documents Show that Liberal Immigration Minister Ahmed Hussen is a Racist

When his counterparts Michelle Rempel and Lisa MacLeod raised questions on the seemingly endless tide of migrants pouring into the country, Hussen called them “fear mongers” and “unCanadian”. Well it turns out that in an August 14th letter to the immigration section of the Canadian Bar Association, Hussen said number of asylum seekers is rising “far beyond” what the system can handle, and the situation is “not sustainable”.

“Trudeau, fast becoming Canada’s Idi Amin, might have you arrested if you depart from his policies”

In Justin Trudeau’s Canada, punitive government action is taken against “Islamophobia,” while anti-Semitism has reached disturbing levels and the country’s divisions are becoming worse. A hate rally in the heart of Toronto’s Jewish community exposed a shocking reality: a link between elements of the Canadian Union of Postal Workers with a Palestinian group that “supports terrorism.” Fortunately, it was met with opposition from supporters of Israel. The video below demonstrates the decline of Canadian values under the Trudeau government.

How Trudeau killed trade negotiations with Trump

Earlier this week, Trump signed a bilateral trade deal with Mexico. He planned to call Justin Trudeau to discuss the new deal, but Trudeau refused to take the call. Trudeau's schedule shows that Monday was just booked for "private time", so we know for a fact that he wasn't consumed with important business preventing him from taking a call from the President.

Canada and Saudi Arabia

Canada's reaction to the Saudi outburst should be to "build the Energy East pipeline (to move western Canadian oil to eastern Canada), think twice about sending arms into a conflict zone and make more spots available for Canadians in Canadian medical schools and hospitals" according to Paul Heinbecker, former Canadian ambassador to the U.N.,

Justin Trudeau Said More Diversity Is "A Form Of Entropy."

PMJT tells accountants that world is moving towards more diversity. "It's a form of entropy." Hmmm. Well, here's how entropy is defined:

"lack of order or predictability; gradual decline into disorder."

And here are the synonyms for entropy – according to the dictionary on Google: “synonyms: deterioration, degeneration, crumbling, decline, degradation, decomposition, breaking down, collapse;”

Maxime Bernier: Why my new political movement? Because Canada has been hijacked

This is what I have been concerned with for the past 12 years: How to reconcile my desire to serve the public with a political dynamic entirely dominated by pandering and vote-buying strategies. Conservatives play that game as much as the Liberals, even though it directly contradicts the small-government, free-market principles the party purports to defend.

Maxime Bernier Calls For Phasing Out Foreign Aid

This is an important moment for Canadian politics. For far too long there has been a false consensus around the truly absurd idea that our tax dollars are given away to foreign countries while our own Citizens struggle. Read the five tweets on Foreign Aid from Maxime.

PERSECUTED CHRISTIANS

Death as Punishment "for Disbelief": Extremist Persecution of Christians

The jihadi assault on, and massacre of, Christians continued unabated throughout the Muslim world. According to one report titled, "Armed gangs WIPE OUT 15 villages in mass Christian slaughter in Nigeria," several Islamic terrorists "stormed through 15 villages to massacre Christians and destroy their churches in a violent crackdown against the religion.... Dozens of people have been killed after the gangs ransacked towns and villages to clear them of all aspects of the Christian faith. Houses belonging to believers have also been razed with authorities doing little to help..." According to a human rights activist, "One attack took place in broad daylight, as people were about to go to church. The assailants chased and killed the villagers and burned down nine churches and many more houses."

IMMIGRATION

Italy and Hungary Create 'Anti-Immigration Axis'

Hungarian Prime Minister Viktor Orbán and Italian Interior Minister Matteo Salvini have pledged to create an "anti-immigration axis" aimed at countering the pro-migration policies of the European Union. Meeting in Milan on August 28, Orbán and Salvini, vowed to work together with Austria and the Visegrad Group — the Czech Republic, Hungary, Poland and Slovakia — to oppose a pro-migration group of EU countries led by French President Emmanuel Macron.

Celebrate diversity! The Islamic State issued this call in September 2014:

"So O muwahhid, do not let this battle pass you by wherever you may be. You must strike the soldiers, patrons, and troops of the tawaghit. Strike their police, security, and intelligence members, as well as their treacherous agents. Destroy their beds. Embitter their lives for them and busy them with themselves. If you can kill a disbelieving American or European — especially the spiteful and filthy French — or an Australian, or a Canadian, or any other disbeliever from the disbelievers waging war, including the citizens of the countries that entered into a coalition against the Islamic State, then rely upon Allah, and kill him in any manner or way however it may be....If you are not able to find an IED or a bullet, then single out the disbelieving American, Frenchman, or any of their allies. Smash his head with a rock, or slaughter him with a knife, or run him over with your car, or throw him down from a high place, or choke him, or poison him."

Google's pro-Muslim algorithms

After many years, Texas imam Omar Suleiman has successfully lobbied Google into changing the algorithm used to find results on Muslim-related issues. According to the state-run Turkish news Anadolu Agency, Google's results about queries related to Islam or Muslims in the past produced "what many criticized as propaganda from hate groups" and "alleged disinformation." In contrast, now "Google's first page results for searches of terms such as 'jihad,' 'sharia' and 'taqiyya' return mostly reputable explanations of Islamic concepts."

The Broken Soapbox

Social media now has a near monopoly on public discourse, and the age of censorship has arrived. Ideas and messages that once were tolerable are now forbidden. Users have spent a decade or more building their audience with a consistent message – and thus filling the platform-owner's pockets – and now find themselves banned when their message hasn't changed.

Regulation must happen, but it should be simple and clear. We already have laws against harassment and calls for violence, and they can be applied to social media without empowering political censorship. All communication platforms open to the general public must mimic the public sphere in every regard, with the platforms treated as the air through which the sound of the human voice travels.

EDUCATION INDOCTRINATION

Leftist Censorship Thrives on University Campuses in America

In America today, there is perhaps no better example of the all-out assault leftists have launched against freedom of speech than on college campuses. Leftists have progressively taken over American universities and, just as quickly, systematically eroded freedom of speech and engagement for the students. Not only are voices that leftist faculty members disagree with prevented from speaking, but voices espousing violent, anti-Semitic and radical Islamic rhetoric are welcomed in open arms.

Public school teachers in Portland given “social justice” education guides that praise Islam, communist revolutions and violent social justice groups

Public school teachers are being instructed to implement as part of their teaching curriculum the far-left concepts contained in a new teaching guide entitled, “Planning to Change the World – A Plan Book for Social Justice Teachers.” As its name implies, the guide contains all sorts of social justice warrior (SJW) dogma such as how to use the “correct” gender pronouns, how to cater to “trans” kids in the classroom, and how to best celebrate Islamic holidays. The guide also contains instruction about the “merits” of communism, and how violence can be used to create “social change.”

The candidate was rushed to hospital with low blood pressure and internal bleeding and is reported to be now fighting for his life. Alleged terrorist, Adelio Bispo De Oliveira, was arrested with seconds and authorities are already saying De Oliveira was mentally unstable.

German mother says “we feel like foreigners,” only 2 of 25 children in son’s daycare speak German

The mother, Leen Kroetsch, claims that out of 25 children, her son’s group consists of only two without an immigrant background and who can speak German fluently, while the other 23 are unable to understand German at all. At the same time, these other children, according to Kroetsch, can easily communicate with each other while speaking in their mother tongues, which her son obviously does not speak.

Germany: Muslims screaming “Allahu akbar” and “We’ll kill you all” storm hip club, stone clubgoers

With cries of “Allahu Akbar” and “We’ll kill you all,” more than 15 armed Arabs stormed a hip club in Frankfurt on the Oder early Sunday morning. The guests who did not make it to the club, tried to run away and hide under cars: “It was like a war scene – everyone was in acute danger to their lives,” said the club operator. Then the attackers began to smash windows and tried to break open the doors as the club’s guests barricaded themselves inside. Danke, Merkel! Diversity is our strength!

Merkel’s open borders for Islamic terrorism strikes again. Why Two Americans Were Stabbed in Amsterdam

Terrorism doesn’t have to be everywhere. Especially Islamic terrorism, which is not an indigenous political movement in Europe, Canada, Australia or America, but can only spread through migration. Without open borders, the infrastructure of Islamic terrorism, from immigrants, migrants and refugees, to mosques, which generate new converts, Islamic terrorism would be an issue in Kabul, not Berlin.

Teenage Boy from NM Compound: We Were Being Trained for Jihad

The 13-year-old son of the leader of the Islamist cult in New Mexico told FBI agents he was being trained for jihad against non-believers. The boy, one of 11 children found starving at the filthy compound, is the son of Jany Leveille, an illegal immigrant from Haiti and the leader of the cult. Also at the compound was Leveille's husband (or boyfriend, as her son referred to him), Siraj Wahhaj, Jr., son of radical imam Siraj Wahhaj, Sr. based in New York. Two of the other adult defendants in the case are Wahhaj, Sr.'s children as well. On Friday, August 31, the FBI rearrested all five adults involved with the cult after they had been let off on a legal technicality two days earlier.

17 Years On: US Politicians Still Support Terror Organizations

Seventeen years after September 11, 2001, America is seeing its own politicians still supporting terror organizations. These activities significantly jam progress in the "War on Terror." In 2015, Cruz introduced the "Muslim Brotherhood Terrorist Designation Act," which draws a decisive line in the sand against the foreign ideologically extremist agents. However, the bill still hasn't made it into law. The Muslim Brotherhood has already been banned as a terror organization in Egypt, the United Arab Emirates, Saudi Arabia, Russia, Syrian and Bahrain. For America to move the needle on ideological terror, it needs to act against Islamist agents and do a better job of educating elected officials on the international league of terror — the Muslim Brotherhood.

The uncomfortable truth: Haj pilgrims to Mecca and the spread of illnesses

Two major health scares at US airports involving inbound flights are related to pilgrims returning from the Haj - the Muslim pilgrimage to the holy city of Mecca, Saudi Arabia which ended in late August - US health officials said on Friday. Indeed: gathering huge crowds of people from all over the world and placing them in close proximity: sharing toilets, food and water under inherently stressful conditions is an ideal breeding ground for the spread of disease. Simply raising this topic is almost certain to be denounced as "Islamophobia," but disease vectors don't care about theology.

Is it over yet?

John McCain may have been dear to a few people, but for the rest of us (and most likely 99% of the people invited to be part of his ostentatious Display of the Dead), he remains a clear and present exemplar of a petty plutocracy and blatant self-service. An insatiably vindictive man, his equally malicious family, and all those eager to participate in a six-minute trash-talk tribute have radically transformed one of the last public opportunities to share our humanity. We do not mourn, we cannot mourn, and we should not mourn one who in death chose to even a score only he was keeping.

It was the observation of a high-school junior that explained a certain hollowness to every news anchor's claim that a nation mourns. CJ Pearson wrote: "At most funerals I've attended, it's God's love that fills the room, not hate and animus for a person who is not even in attendance."

The Unbearable Whiteness of Being By David Solway

Indeed, the university as a social and cultural institution is a slow-motion train wreck picking up speed: equity hiring, affirmative action, anti-conservative and overt leftist politics, the "diversity and inclusion" myth on which the academy prides itself, groupthink, speech codes, snitch lines, trigger warnings, safe spaces, microaggressions, the attack on academic freedom – the list goes on.

The bogus issue that has recently acquired major prominence in the quagmire of campus politics is "whiteness," especially the "hegemony" of straight white males and their champions, guilty, apparently, of every conceivable ill that has bedeviled the world since the first silverback descended from the trees.
