

“Growing terrorism, permissive societies, democracy collapsing through lack of law and order. If things continue on their present track, the disintegration of Western societies will occur much sooner than you think under the hammer blows of fascism and communism. Freedom is not something that does not have a breaking point, and your enemies would like you to reach that point.”

Our Freedoms Are Under Assault by Social Justice Mobs

It is difficult for any group or individual to find a platform if they dissent from the increasingly narrow range of acceptable speech. Who gets to speak and what they say is being decided by modern-day Brownshirts, some of whom have already demonstrated that they have lost their grip on basic human decency by beating journalists and shouting down little old ladies with walkers.

Future historians may decry our times as the turning point when Lady Liberty laid down her torch and gave up the fight; or, they may proclaim it as the time when our free and democratic order was defended by ordinary people standing up to the mobs and declaring, “Enough!”

Toronto's Meghan Murphy Meltdown: A Case Study in Media-Driven Social Panic

And who is Meghan Murphy? According to CBC radio host Carol Off, Murphy is someone whose extremism summons to mind comparisons with "a Holocaust denier or a white supremacist." Hundreds of angry Torontonians gathered to protest that speech on Tuesday, telling at least one Murphy supporter to "go kill yourself, go bleed out and die." The next day, Toronto's governing council voted to review library policies, with a view toward ensuring that such a shocking spectacle would never again blacken the city's reputation. For good measure, a pair of drag queens named Fay and Fluffy announced they would no longer come to the library to read books to children.

Transgender: Dear God: Whatever happened to science?

I was under the impression that the Scopes Monkey Trial had settled the difference between science and belief. There were those who stated unequivocally that God created the earth in six days, and all creatures upon it, including man and woman. Separate and distinct from the animal kingdom. Science said otherwise and science won the day: we are descended from the ape family. We are returning to a world where feelings and belief are superseding science, and that is a dangerous world. It is a world with no absolute right or wrong. A dearth of facts.

Students suspended from Canadian high school for refusing to wear rainbow poppy

Cyara Bird of the Little Black River First Nation describes how her 17-year-old cousin was suspended today... want to know why? Her choir teacher was demanding that the choir wear rainbow poppies during their performance in the Remembrance Day ceremony. She and another student rejected that idea, and both were suspended for "hate speech." Bird also posted a message from her cousin's father which read that the young woman had attempted to record the school administrators admonishing her using her cellphone, but that they noticed and confiscated her phone in response.

A Former Hungarian Refugee Asks: Have Canadians Lost the Will to Fight for Their Freedoms?

The Canadian people have never had to live under Communism, Nazism, Sharia law or any other dictatorship and consequently do not see this danger as an imminent and potential reality. Is it realistic to expect the people of Western nations to fight for freedom and their sovereignty when they have totally forgotten or are unaware of the importance of fighting and keeping their culture, values, borders and religion?

Trudeau Government Election Law Crushes Free Speech, Mimics Legislation in Authoritarian States

How bad and dangerous is the Trudeau government's election law – Section 91 of the Elections Act? Even CBC is ripping into it. We must demand that this law be repealed, and spread the word about how dangerous and authoritarian it is. The Trudeau government is moving in a more and more authoritarian direction, and we can't just hope that will stop in its own.

Tweets Have Consequences

“To those fleeing persecution, terror and war, Canadians will welcome you, regardless of your faith. Diversity is our strength #WelcomeToCanada.” These are the words of Prime Minister Justin Trudeau, from his now-famous tweet on January 28, 2017. According to the federal immigration department, asylum seekers receive up to $20,000 per migrant, per year in taxpayer-funded services. Entitlements include access to government housing, social assistance payments, public education, and government health care. Under the Interim Federal Health Program (IFHP), asylum seekers are provided health care coverage through the federal government while they are waiting for their immigration status to be determined. It provides the same care as a person on social assistance in Canada, including additional services that most Canadians pay for out of pocket – such as dental care and pharmaceutical coverage.

As Foreign Threats Rise & Our Unity Crumbles, Canada Must Abandon Our Pathological 'Niceness'

At a certain point, an obsession with 'niceness' ends up becoming almost pathological, and we're seeing the consequences of that right now.

- We're too 'nice' to confront Communist China.
- We're too 'nice' to fight back against the foreign money that is trying to destroy our energy industry.
- We're too 'nice' to strengthen our armed forces and defend ourselves in a dangerous world.
- And we're too 'nice' to confront the rising threat of gang violence, lawlessness, and the immense flow of deadly opioids into our country.

C3RF Update - November 2019

As the energy juggernaut, Encana, leaves behind Canada and its shared legacy of close to 150 years, one might wonder if we are witnessing the end of one era and the dawn of another. In the older era, Encana operated as a rational company in a rational world. In the new one, it was being forced to navigate an economic landscape straight-jacketed by virtuous thinking and demands of unquestioned obedience to politically correct narratives. Problem is, the ability to debate and push back against such fanciful notions is nearly lost as "free speech" is being consumed by the same process. Is it any wonder that, in moving south, Encana has chosen to change its name and shed any affiliation with a Canada that is disowning its own proud heritage?

EU uses UK taxpayer money to fund report branding Boris Johnson as key figure in "Islamophobia Network"

Why are Sharia and Islam beyond criticism? What if Boris Johnson had poked fun at Christian practices? Would he be the subject of a taxpayer-funded report demonizing him then? Is there no one in shattered, staggering, dhimmi Britain who will speak out against and work to end this society-wide suicidal madness? Brussels gave £109,000 for the study to a think-tank in Turkey, even though the country is outside the EU. FREE SPEECH

First Amendment 'Should not Protect Hateful Speech'

Condoning anti-speech legislation is no different than promoting blasphemy legislation. Americans and all people of good will must fight against speech suppression of any kind. Appeasement does not work, Mr. Strenzel. Speech suppression most certainly does not work. This author imagines that Strenzel would have similarly condemned Winston Churchill's pre-war rhetoric, clutching his pearls that his words would inflame the "moderate" Nazis.

The Court of Justice of the European Union Limits Free Speech

This judgment has major implications for online freedom of expression around the world. "Compelling social media platforms like Facebook to automatically remove posts regardless of their context will infringe our right to free speech and restrict the information we see online... "The ruling also means that a court in one EU member state will be able to order the removal of social media posts in other countries, even if they are not considered unlawful there. This would set a dangerous precedent where the courts of one country can control what internet users in another country can see. This could be open to abuse, particularly by regimes with weak human rights records."

Climategate: Ten years later

On the morning of 17 November 2009, a Pandora's box of embarrassing CRU information exploded onto the world scene. A computer hacker penetrated the university's computer system and took 61 Megs of material that showed the CRU had been manipulating scientific information to make global warming appear to be the fault of mankind and industrial CO2. Among many other scandals, the shocking leaked emails showed then-CRU-director Prof. Phil Jones boasting of using statistical "tricks" to remove evidence of observed declines in global temperatures.

Climate Science's Myth Buster

This brings us to why Judith Curry left the world of the academy and government-funded research. "Climatology has become a political party with totalitarian tendencies," she charges. "If you don't support the UN consensus on human-caused global warming, if you express the slightest skepticism, you are a 'climate-change denier,' a stooge of Donald Trump, a quasi-fascist who must be banned from the scientific community." These days, the climatology mainstream accepts only data that reinforce its hypothesis that humanity is behind global warming. Those daring to take an interest in possible natural causes of climactic variation—such as solar shifts or the earth's oscillations—aren't well regarded in the scientific community, to put it mildly.

Saudi Slavery an Islamically-sanctioned barbarity continues.

The Saudis are not alone in such mistreatment of their domestic workers. The Kuwaitis and the Emiratis have been difficult masters, too, but the conditions of domestic workers appear to be especially harsh in Saudi Arabia. The mentality that lies behind this mistreatment rests on two things. First, there is the deep belief that slavery is legitimate, given that Muhammad himself owned slaves, and does not become illegitimate in Islamic societies just because Western pressure has led to its formal prohibition. The slave-owner mentality remains.

Envy is a symptom of Trump Derangement Syndrome

Envy is a pure evil. Trump's opponents hate him not for his mistakes, tweets, or manners, but for his achievements — achievements they themselves could never produce. They are even highly envious of Trump's wife, Melania, a most gracious and beautiful first lady, especially when contrasted with the oafish Michelle Obama. The media are loath to report anything good about Melania and take gratuitous shots at her at every opportunity. Why? They want to damage Melania only because she's the wife of Donald Trump. That is hate inspired by envy.
