WE ARE AMERICA

The Thin Blue Line by Linda Goudsmit

The goal of the radical leftist Democrat party and their globalist bosses is not regulatory reform. Their ultimate goal is to replace the existing blue police force with their own mercenary stormtroopers. Antifa and BLM will become the brown shirts of the new normal in America. The radical leftist Democrat war on police is the last stage in the globalist war on America.

Antifa and BLM are foot soldiers of the revolution. The identifiable mob leaders are contracted by the unobserved globalist elite. It is the globalist bosses who are directing the social chaos by funding and fomenting mob violence, and by neutering the police force with radical leftist stand-down policies.

There are no individual freedoms in the New World Order of the globalist elite. The unified globalized world is a binary socio-political system with the globalist ruling elite at the top of the pyramid, and the enslaved population who serve them below. Globalism is the twenty-first century name for feudalism. The New World Order is the very old system of masters and slaves.

'You won't need to abolish us – we won't be around for it'

Travis Yates is a serving police commander in Tulsa, Oklahoma. He is a doctoral student in Strategic Leadership, a graduate of the FBI National Academy, and the author of "The Courageous Police Leader: A Survival Guide for Combating Cowards, Chaos & Lies". After more than 27 years in the force, I've had enough. These protests and riots are the final straw. The nasty words we get called all the time have now turned into rocks, bottles and gunfire. It's over, America: we are leaving.

10 Things for Which I'll Never Apologize

There are people who live to be offended. They're called Progressives. They are offended by Confederate statues, by monuments that they say celebrate white supremacy and colonialism, by Trump supporters, by Trump himself, and by those who refuse to get on their knees and grovel before Black Lives Matter. To say you're offended exalts your feelings above everything else. It's not an argument, but a call to end discussion – an admission of intellectual impotence. Being offended isn't a mark of virtue; it's a sign that you're a big, blubbery baby who will throw a tantrum if you can't get your way.

Anyone Sick of Riots, Burnings, Lootings and Monument Destruction?

If we allow this current generation of naïve-gullible kids to tear down our monuments from our past, we will not remember or understand what gave us our freedoms. Why do you think they preserved Birkenau and Auschwitz where millions died in gas chambers during World War II? Answer: to remember that humanity won't let that happen again. Why did we erect a statue of Martin Luther King on the Washington Mall? Answer: to demonstrate peacefully toward any goal to bring the greater good.

Black Lives Matter Organizer: 'Give Me Money or We'll Break Windows'

Justice consisted of toppling the progressive statue of Lady Forward and a Union veteran, and violently assaulting State Senator Tim Carpenter, a gay progressive from Milwaukee, who had come out to support the peaceful protest, but unfortunately missed the peaceful protest, and was instead punched and kicked in the head, neck and ribs, and left with a concussion.

The Present Moment Has Set Blacks Back a Half-Century

The damage the left is doing to America may be mortal. When it is widely deemed OK to destroy statues of Abraham Lincoln, society is experiencing a moral earthquake which may eventually destroy it. But the damage the left is doing to so many blacks -- to their moral compass, to their happiness and to their relations with their white fellow citizens -- is not in the realm of "may do." It is done.

Time to Expose the Fraud That Launched BLM

On Black Lives Matter's website, the organization's radical founders trace the creation of their movement "to the acquittal of Trayvon Martin's murderer, George Zimmerman." Had those founders paid any attention to the trial, they would have known that Zimmerman should never have been charged with murder, let alone tried.

Never Give an Inch

Since we all agree that black lives matter -- as do all other lives -- then what's the point? There isn't one. Blacks in this country are doing well -- under this president, financially better than they ever have. We'd all like to see black families put back together, but that's not anything a riot will fix. We'd like to see school choice so that black children have a better shot at an education, but the left is adamantly against that. So, what? It's never been clearer that this has been fit-throwing for fit-throwing's sake -- and for the sake of stealing the coming election.

NY Times: George Washington Statues Must Go

Lefties describe such things as opposition to colonialism, that is to say, they support slavery when it's practiced by Islamists, and condemn European efforts to stop it. That's why their clucking over American slavery is a hypocritical excuse for attacking America while defending slavery as an institution. Let me know when Charles Blow and the New York Times are ready to cancel Mohammed as an inhuman monster. Otherwise they can shut the hell up about the Father of our Country.

Pathetic: Greta Thunberg, Meghan Markle trying to get in on the BLM act

What we are seeing here, in both cases, is two lost souls looking on in envy at the mayhem wrought against America through Black Lives Matter, and wanting to get in on the action, too. Neither figure from the plummy quarters in Europe had had any interest in this earlier, Thunberg had her big protests and speaking tours, while Markle had her charities, but with the cameras now on the amorphous activist group, whose chief purpose seems to be to destroy America, while conveying virtue-signaling and absolution from racism, they can't resist

This is McCarthyism in BLM clothing

The Black Lives Matter (BLM) protests have accelerated and intensified our culture of crushing conformism. I was sympathetic to those whose justifiably angry reaction to the appalling killing of George Floyd on 25 May led them to break Covid-19 lockdowns and take to the streets. Yet, somehow, an idealistic and well-motivated protest against injustice and police brutality has increasingly come to resemble the 17th-century Salem witch trials, or the McCarthyism of the 1950s, dramatised by Arthur Miller in The Crucible.

Apocalyptic science: How the West is destroying itself

If you live in a Western nation like Canada in the 21st century, you have more freedom, prosperity and peace than most of the rest of the world at most other times in history. Yet these countries have never been at greater risk. The threat is not pandemics, climate change or war but something more insidious. Do not expect bedrock principles of Canadian law and society to withstand this subversion. The ground began to shift long ago, and a kind of cultural apocalypse is well underway.

We are writing this letter on behalf of Students For Canada (SFC) to present a supportive view of Canada's Energy / Oil and Gas sector. This letter is in response to concerns raised by several groups criticizing your pledge to support the oil and gas sector as well as other negative statements that followed. A poll completed on March 26, 2020, showed that 82% of Canadians across the nation support or accept assisting the Oil and Gas Industry, as Canada has done with many other industries (Abacus Data, March 2020) 1 . As well, several independent polls have confirmed that the majority of Canadians support Oil and Gas development.

Much to love about Canada, despite any imperfections by Conrad Black

I don't intend to make light of the real problems. But our official obsession with this issue is an absurd displacement for other concerns. Of course racism exists and must be extirpated. But this is not a racist country; it is a good country compared to the 197 others. Canada as a self-governing entity has never had any slavery and Canadians before and after they became self-governing in internal matters in 1848 had an admirable record in encouraging and accepting fugitive slaves from the United States, totalling about 40,000, and in giving refuge to anti-slavery activists, including John Brown and Harriet Tubman.

Justin Trudeau has said he wants Canada to become the first "Post-National" state. ## Canada: Six religious statues beheaded at Grotto of Our Lady of Lourdes Leftists have been indulging in an orgy of destroying statues lately, but their favored method of destruction is pulling them down, not beheading them. Could it have anything to do with the introduction into Canada of a large population of people who believe that Christianity is a false religion and that they are commanded to fight unbelievers so that Allah may punish them by the hands of the believers (cf. Qur'an 9:14-15)?

It's unfortunate that the RCMP Commissioner was coerced by politicians and media to claim that there is systemic racism in the RCMP. ## The War for Free Speech Is Here

The freedom to create ideas and release them into the world, to pray fervently and openly according to personal belief, to speak without worry of pain or punishment, is so essential to what America is that fighting for its preservation is nothing short of fighting for the survival of the American nation itself. If we lose it, everything else falls apart. Preserving free speech must be where we make our last stand.

The Corporate Thought Police

Corporate America has circumvented the first Amendment by appointing itself the thought police over employees and associates who do not adhere strictly to the "rules" of the current orthodoxy. It administers its ruthless justice -- Cultural Revolution style -- through the destruction of employee livelihoods and careers. The new corporate thought police are merciless; they do not accept apologies, however groveling. Perhaps, in the future, corporations will have "re-education" departments, as in China or the former Soviet Union, for those who still have the courage to open their minds and their mouths.

Whatever Happened to Free Speech?

More and more people are being cancelled and deplatformed by the woke outrage mob. # ALTERNATIVE TO TWITTER

What's the Deal With Parler?

What led to Parler's founding in August 2018 was, predictably, disillusionment with the likes of the Silicon Valley giants. Henderson, Nevada-based software engineers Jared Thomson and John Matze created the platform, according to Parler's website, "after being exhausted with a lack of transparency in big tech, ideological suppression [sic] and privacy abuse." Matze, Parler's CEO who counts Ayn Rand and conservative economist Thomas Sowell among his influences, fancies his platform a sort of free-speech utopia: "We're a community town square, an open town square, with no censorship," Matze told CNBC.

Why Parler is worth a punt

True liberals should embrace any challenge to Twitter's stifling monopoly. Although I am nervous about the possibility that Parler will simply create another echo chamber, there is much to be gained from attempting to break Twitter's monopoly. In any case, given the ferocity with which social-justice activists treat attempts at dialogue, is there any choice but to embrace the echo-chamber phenomenon?

How the man who eradicated smallpox would have handled coronavirus

Whether we realize it or not, we have all been part of a grand experiment. Never before have we had a national lockdown and mass quarantines of healthy people in response to a pandemic. Not during the 1918 Spanish flu, the 1957 Asian flu, or the 1968/69 Hong Kong flu. Even the concept of social distancing is a modern one. We have implemented many of those things before to varying degrees, but never on a national scale. The end result has had huge economic and social consequences.

On behalf of environmentalists everywhere, I would like to formally apologize for the climate scare we created over the last 30 years. Climate change is happening. It's just not the end of the world. If we are going to question the legitimacy of statues of everyone from Columbus to Jefferson, what possible reason could there be for leaving in place the legacy of a Klan ally and a vicious racist? You can ally with the KKK, party with the Nazis, and romanticize Islamic slavery as long as you're a black nationalist.
